Carbonite and Veritas Announce Reseller Partnership

February 14, 2019

Alliance provides endpoint protection to enterprise market

BOSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Feb. 14, 2019-- Today, Carbonite, Inc. (NASDAQ: CARB), a global leader in data protection, and Veritas Technologies, a worldwide leader in enterprise data protection and software-defined storage, announced a new partnership designed to provide enhanced endpoint device protection to Veritas customers. Veritas will act as an authorized distributor and reseller of Carbonite Endpoint to its customer base.

Carbonite Endpoint is a hybrid cloud solution that safeguards the data that resides on an organization's computers, laptops, tablets and smartphones. Using file-level backup with patented global deduplication, Carbonite allows businesses' IT managers to mitigate data loss while maximizing overall performance across distributed networks. Carbonite Endpoint provides a flexible and effective data protection solution for any size business.

"We are very excited about the prospect of working with Veritas, a long-standing leader in enterprise-scale data protection," said Norman Guadagno, SVP Marketing, Carbonite. "The endpoint is one of the most critical vulnerabilities for businesses today, and Carbonite Endpoint has demonstrated its ability to empower IT managers to protect businesses at scale."

"As the data protection needs of businesses continue to evolve, and our enterprise customers turn to us as a trusted technology vendor and partner, we believe that offering a best-in-class endpoint protection SaaS solution is essential," said Simon Jelley, VP Product Management Veritas Technologies. "With Carbonite and Carbonite Endpoint, we have found a partner that shares our dedication to data protection and a solution that meets enterprise customers' needs."
